Building Literacy Through Classroom Discussion

By Mary Adler and Eija Rougle

Teaching Resources

Description

Drawing on her 22 years of experience as a kindergarten teacher, Cindy Middendorf has compiled this amazing resource packed with research-based activities, lessons and strategies to increase students' oral language skills.

She shares rhymes, chants, action stories and songs that kids adore that will hone phonemic awareness and build vocabulary. She demonstrates how to boost oral language use in centers, how to foster social skills through language, and how to encourage language development at home.

Her differentiated approach and classroom-tested ideas will help every student in your classroom to get ready to read.

Description

Want to help students achieve greater depth of reading, writing and understanding? This book shows teachers how to facilitate discussions where students share rich, defensible interpretations of literature and solid, reasoned, understandings of any concepts under study.

Based on the authors' extensive research in middle schools, it describes why discussion-based instruction is crucial to achievement, and then shows you how to introduce and sustain discussions.

The authors clearly define the teacher's role and provide lots of successful strategies such as provocative statements and journal jots.

Trouble-shooting sections answer common questions teachers have, such as how to correct a wrong interpretation and how to teach students to build on each other's comments.

Teaching Reading In Middle School

By Laura Robb

Description	In this completely revised and updated edition of a best-selling classic, master teacher Laura Robb reflects on how her teaching has evolved over the ten years since the book's initial publication. Drawing on current research and her most recent classroom experiences with students all over the country, Robb presents abundant new material, including fresh literacy vignettes that showcase lessons and learning experiences. She demonstrates how she has fine-tuned her strategy lessons, focusing on helping students become more aware of why they're doing what they're doing. She expands her discussion of motivation, differentiation, assessment, classroom management and more - including a whole new chapter on conferring. Robb's passion for helping adolescents become lifelong readers radiates throughout the book, and she offers new insights and innovative ideas for working with students at this critical juncture of their literacy lives. Includes a CD with forms, charts and more.

Essential Strategies For Word Study

By Timothy Rasinski and Jerry Zutell

Reading Resources

The Reading Zone

By Nancie Atwell

Reading Resources

Description

Defining word study as the direct exploration and analysis of words - through phonics, vocabulary, and spelling instruction - the authors maintain that it is most effective when sound, spelling, and meaning are examined simultaneously.

To that end, they offer thirty engaging activities divided into three sections: exploring word structure, examining word meanings, and extending word learning. In this way, word study becomes a fascinating part of the overarching language arts curriculum.

Students learn all about words, inside and out, as they sort and spell, harvest and map, define and design, investigate and analyze, decode and use words—all toward the aim of becoming more effective and efficient readers and writers.

Writing Resources

Mastering The Mechanics

By Linda Hoyt and Lynnette Brent

Writing Resources

Description

Struggling writers need personalized, focused and assessment-informed instruction and, to this end, Angelillo shows teachers how to provide their students with three levels of support:

- Self-monitoring strategies that enable students to start writing, build writing stamina, manage their time and stay focused on a topic
- Classroom community resources which create a safe, supportive environment in which to write
- Best practices drawn from writer's workshop including student choice in writing topics, discovering one's voice as a writer, and time out to conference, reflect and assess.
